I have attached a picture of a sample rear fender I am looking for, as well the Chevy I am busy with. You will see that these fenders have a "ridge" running along the fender and I would really love to have rear fenders that tie in with the front ones. Because the van bodies were all custom made those years, I can probably make most types of rear fenders work for my project, but first prize would be to have a matching pair. Your assistance is much appreciated. Wessel Marais Email wmarais@um.co.za
